LANE LIROFF RECEIVES ENDORSEMENT OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY DOLORES CARR

Palo Alto March 6, 2008—Judicial candidate Lane Liroff has received the endorsement of Santa Clara County District Attorney Dolores Carr, he announced today. Carr, who served as a Superior Court Judge for six years prior to winning the D.A. position in 2006, chose to endorse Liroff over candidates Jay Boyarsky, Tim Pitsker, Diane Ritchie and Jesus Valencia Jr.

“Lane is an excellent lawyer and my choice for Superior Court Judge,” says Carr. “He has extensive experience and a strong commitment to justice.”

Liroff, a distinguished prosecutor for the Santa Clara County D.A. who for the past 29 years has been prosecuting dangerous and complex criminal cases involving homicides, gang members, sexual assaults and child molestations, says, “This endorsement by Dolores is a tremendous honor. She is known for her uncompromising dedication to the highest moral standards and professionalism.”

Liroff was named Outstanding Prosecutor in Santa Clara County in 2003. For 18 years he taught trial procedures as a law school professor, and helped author seven books on ethics, criminal law and trial procedures. In 1999 Liroff consulted with Attorney General Janet Reno regarding prosecution of federal murder cases. He was awarded a Fellowship in the American College of Trial Lawyers in 2006. Fellow lawyers have rated his legal abilities and ethics at the highest level of professional excellence.

Carr’s endorsement adds to Liroff’s growing base of support that includes a remarkable 32 presiding or retired Santa Clara County Judges or Court Commissioners, as well as former Santa Clara County District Attorney Leo Himmelsbach, former San Jose Mayor Tom McEnery, Assemblyman Jim Beall, Jr., and former Police Chiefs William Lansdowne, Joseph McNamara and Lucy Carlton.
